No Turn On Red!

For the third year in a row, students from the yearbook staff attended the annual Hunter Publishing Company yearbook conference. This year four students went — Michelle Haggstrom, Sue Babineau, Kim Troest, and Amy Beauregard. Unlike the previous two years, we were unchaperoned, because Shifty decided to go sailing. So the four of us piled into Kim's car, and her mother rushed us to Westfield. Unfortunately we were late, and we weren't in the right place at first. We had directed Kim's mother to Scanlon Hall, where we had stayed the previous two years, but this year we were staying at Dickenson Hall. After we got settled, we met with our group leader, who was Arnie Lohmann, FHS's sales representative.

The five day stay at Westfield started on Tuesday with an opening meeting, and then a class on theme from 7:30-9:00 PM. Afterwards we were treated to the movie Ruthless People in the Wilson Auditorium. The next few days were packed with courses and lectures on layout and design, theme, fundraising, copy writing, organization, and ladder diagram. Our classes went until 10 pm, with occasional breaks and an activity at the end of the night. The most exciting night was Thursday night, when we participated in a barbecue and Monte Carlo night. Friday morning we left after Sue's mother came to get us.

While we were at Westfield, Michelle came up with a theme idea — No Turn on Red. After a suggestion from Judy Allen, a guest speaker for Hunter Publishing, we all decided to change our theme to — Right Turn on Red.

Is it important to you to have a job while going to school?

Yes, because a job teaches a person to be responsible for something other than themselves and that is important. — Tracy Rameau

No, your grades drop and your school work should come first. — Liz Lino

No, I think it's a bad idea. Then kids find they have no time for school work and school activities. — Tracy Walsh

Should students have their own car while in high school? Why?

Yes, because it can get you to and from places. — Kerrie Miner

Yes, to go out whenever they want. — Karl Pfanzelter

Yes, it gives them their freedom and they don't have to ask their parents for rides. — Danielle Holland

Is it important to have a boyfriend/girlfriend and why?

Yes, because it may be for great companionship. — John Richard

No, because if you don't you can do what you want, you won't be tied down. — Christina Auger

No, because when you do your sport you concentrate on what you're doing and nothing else. — Eva Filice

OLLIE NORTH RULES

It was a bright and sunny day ... well, sort of ... all right, it poured! And it poured again ... and again! We began to get the sneaking suspicion that someone, somewhere was against us!

Okay, let's start from the beginning! We, the class of 1988, won the right to paint the rock before the class of '87 graduated. We obtained this privilege by blowing them away in the Jr./Sr. Relays. But, being the gracious, understanding (and broke!) class that we were, we decided to wait to until after their graduation ceremony.

So, on May 31, 1987, (the Sunday after graduation) many newly ordained Seniors eagerly gathered at the Rock, bringing with them rope, brushes, and (ahem!) various liquid refreshments. However, we were lacking one crucial ingredient: The paint!

Finally, the paint arrived, and we immediately set out to leave our mark on Fitchburg (at least temporarily). We worked diligently under the blazing sun, painting both the Rock and ourselves. (after all, every proud Senior wants their own collection of "designer originals" from the Rock.) At last, "F.H.S. '88" was emblazoned proudly (if crookedly) on the Rock for all of Fitchburg to see, and we all went home to soak in turpentine and nurse our aching heads. (Oops!)

Unfortunately, our creation did not last long. Underclassmen, as well as previously graduated classes, started changing the Rock's numeral. So the Senior class decided to wait until summer was over in order to save our time and money. Throughout the summer, the Rock was changed many times to bizarre things such as "Ollie North Rules" and other less printable quotes — #?*@!

September rolled around, school began, and we reinitiated our "Rock Fund". (Weren't the underclassmen generous?!) Once we had collected enough money for paint, we set a date and ... it rained. We rescheduled, and ... it rained again!

Finally, we managed to pick a day that was only cloudy. That was good enough for us. So, we all trooped up to the Rock, bringing our brushes, paint, and tape.

Being experienced by now, we taped out our letters first, and then started working on the red background. This was definitely slippery business, especially since we had forgotten all but one rope (which was anchored around Dave Julku's stomach!). However dangerous, work proceeded quickly, since we had left "other distractions" behind — the Rock was wet, but we were dry!

Approximately four hours later, the Rock once again read "F.H.S. '88". Overall it stood strong against the threat of condo developers, nature freaks, and underclassmen.

SENIOR RECEPTION

The Senior Reception of the Faculty and originally [illegible] to be held at Capitol Hall on Wednesday, September 28th, 1987. However, due to inclement weather it was postponed until October 7th. Once again the rain threatened to ruin our fun. Being the determined Seniors that we are we dressed in alternative. The Reception would be moved to Cochise Elementary School. (So much for originality!)

At approximately 3 p.m. Black students and faculty members began to gather in front of the school. By four more members of the Class of 1988 had arrived. Excuse of course the senior members of

FADS AND FASHIONS

We arrived at Mr. Deslile's home with suitcases in hand. Were we moving in? No, the thirteen of us were just going to spend the best four hours of our lives changing, matching, and borrowing clothes for a photo session. The formals, which were taken first, went along easily even though we were all nervous. Everyone was eager to pose for the camera and curious as to what position they would be put in next. When the formals were finished we took time out to chow down on pepperoni pizza (compliments of Shifty). After our hunger was satisfied we pulled casual outfits out of the bulging suitcases. It was a lot different from the formals because we didn't take much time to pose. As soon as one shot was taken Mr. Deslile counted to three and shot again. When everything was finished we stuffed our clothes and shoes back into our suitcases, taking one last look at the room we modeled in. As we drove away, we were still laughing about the unforgettable time we had.

OPUS

On October 31, 1987, Fitchburg High School held its homecoming game against Don Bosco. The Homecoming Court arrived at Crocker field on the Opus float. Students who worked on the float were proud to see their float had been finished in time for the game. After the ceremonial photos, the girls in the court changed from their lovely gowns into jeans so that they would be more comfortable. Even though Fitchburg lost the game 13-20, the Homecoming game turned out successful. Everyone was in high spirits, especially since Howie Nosek, the red raider, and the guys in the court started the wave. Also, the guys brightened up the atmosphere by displaying their humor with matching pairs of Grouch-O-Marx glasses.

Kim Troest, Chris Auger, Mike Thibault, and Karen Selinga gather around Cristi Zimirowski's kitchen to contribute their part in designing the homecoming float.

Every flower that Eric Selinga adds brings the float one step further to completion.

THANKSGIVING RALLY

To many students around the globe, Wednesday, November 25th was probably just an average day. To the Red and Gray students of FHS, however, this was a day not only to exhibit, but to show off their school spirit.

As the students stormed into the auditorium early that morning, they were greeted with red and gray streamers, balloons, and other paraphernalia, as well as the FHS Marching Band, playing modern tunes such as "La Bamba" and "Louie, Louie". To get things started, the Red Raider Varsity Cheerleaders psyched up the crowd with a few of their favorite cheers. The J.V. Cheerleaders then followed with their tribute to the football players with their Football Rap. Finally, it was the moment we were all waiting for, the presentation of the skits.

The student body becomes rowdy when Howie Nosek, the FHS red raider, leaps onto the stage.

The Senior skit was of particular interest. Everyone, including the Seniors themselves, could not wait to see what they would actually do. For, not only did they delay until the very last week, but almost until the night before the rally. Yet, with many thanks to the starring performance of our beloved church lady and the quick thinking of other cast members, the Senior presentation of "Church Chat" was quite a success. Soon after, the Juniors zapped us off to outer space in their version of Star Trek, while the Freshmen class took us back in time to our Mr. Rogers days. A special commendation, moreover, must be given to the Sophomore interpretation of dancing fruit, "We Heard It Through The Grapevine". Last, but definitely not least, came the great appearance of Johnny Most with a prediction of the 104th meeting of the cross-town rivalries.

Furthermore, to conclude the rally, a few words were said by Coach Romano about the game as well as each and every individual player. Lastly, in order to end a perfect rally in the most perfect way, students, faculty, and friends all joined in together in a chorus of our beloved Alma-Mater.

FUN AND FISHES GALORE

On November 27, 1987, the traditional Thanksgiving semi-formal was held. This year, however, there was a break in tradition, and the dance was moved from the school cafeteria to the Eastwood Club. The change of venue seemed to have a positive effect on the dance. It was attended by about 200 people who packed the dance floor all through the night.

Each class was well represented at the Sadie Hawkin's dance. The Seniors set the mood for fun with a food fight. Fish and pretzels were flying through the air until the ammunition (luckily) ran out.

The girls calmly picked the pretzel bits out of their hair and dragged their delinquent dates back to the dance floor. The fun continued uninterrupted until eleven o'clock rolled around and everyone headed for Singapore. Fortunately all food fights were avoided and everyone enjoyed their meal. Once again the Thanksgiving Dance proved to be an enjoyable evening for all.

FALL AWARDS BANQUET

Although there are two fall sport awards banquets, (one for the football team and one for the cross-country, soccer and field hockey teams), they share many of the same emotions, the excitement on the part of those receiving awards and the emptiness felt by the seniors as they realize the final season is over.

At the same time, these banquets are very different. The football banquet, held at the St. Bernards Activity Center, honored two F.H.S. Alumni: Clarence and Norman May. These men starred in three or four sports in the 40's and have continued their support up to date.

Each year special awards such as the Martinez Award, Todd Becker Award, James Meredith and the St. Germain Award are given to outstanding athletes. While J.V. and Freshmen players receive M.V.P. (offensive and defensive) and coaches award. Cheerleading awards were given to the most spirited, most improved and M.V.P.'s.

On the other hand, the other banquet is more humorous. Coach Ambrose played his usual stand up comedian act. While taking place of the absent soccer coach, Mr. Worthley found difficulty in announcing some of the soccer players names and the field hockey team remembered their one and only win. Coaches Awards, unsung hero, M.V.P. (offensive and defensive), most improved and a "bird watchers" award (given to an outstanding Freshmen harrier) were given to these fine athletes.

In each of these banquets a dinner is served and the ceremonies are under way after the meal. After the coaches reminisce on the good and not so good times, each Senior is given a letter jacket displaying their outstanding efforts.

Seniors

The Senior Class Officers are President Mike Trainor, Vice-President Tim Trainor, Treasurer Marni Kirousis, and Secretary Sherrie Newcombe.

Chad Stuart Adams

When Chad is not on the football field or throwing the shotput, you can find him listening to Roger Waters on WAAF or listening to his Who Made Who tape. His fondest memory of FHS is being around his teammates. Coaches were the greatest influence on his high school career. Some of his all time favorites include Dick Butkus, The Hobbit, and Predator. Chad's ambition is to go on to college to become a teacher and football coach.

Douglas Andrew Arrasin

Doug was not only a dedicated student during his years at FHS, but also a caring, sensitive person. He participated in several sports and lists his stellar performance in FHS's victory over Leominster III baseball during Junior year as his fondest memory of FHS. Doug is a devoted fan of U2, and hopes to travel to Ireland some day. He intends to attend college and major in engineering.

Sociable Chris has been active in many FHS activities over her four years. She's a contributor to girls' cross-country, indoor track, and outdoor track. She can often be seen hanging around the gym with Stella, Eva, and Kim, or up at the rock. In her spare time, she can be found watching General Hospital or listening to KISS 108. The greatest influence on her high school career were her parents and friends. Her fondest memory of FHS was painting the rock, football games, or just hanging out at McD's with friends. Her pet peeves are rainy weekends, Mondays, and "Oh My God!"

"Ash" is a rather unique member of the class of '88. Whether on the track or in the classroom, Ash can always be found with a smile and an interesting comment or two. Moreover, if you can't find Ash complaining about his pet peeve — English teachers — you'll most likely find him with one of his favorite people, Dave. With such individuality and an outgoing personality, Ashraf will no doubt reach his aspired goal of someday becoming an aerospace engineer.

Jessica Leigh Babineau

Jessica, also known as "Dinghy", is a prominent member of the Senior class. She can often be found ambushing cars with Kathy and the rest of the "TB Crew" and lists toilet-papering C.T.'s car four times in one day, as one of her favorite memories. Other fondly remembered events include rock parties and painting the rock. Jessica lists her parents as her greatest influence during high school and her one regret is that she wasn't more involved. She hates having her car toilet-papered and listening to B.B. talk about the Lakers, but she loves cruisin' to the tunes of the Police and Billy Joel on WAAF. She lists seafood, The Weathervan, Sesame Street, Danny Ainge, the Celtics, and anything "cute" as her favorites. "Isn't that special?"

Suzy's fun-loving attitude and personality will forever be remembered by the class of '88. She can usually be found cheering on the Raiders at football and basketball games with her many friends. If not in either of these places Suzy is bound to be found dazzling the ski slopes. Though her fondest memories include painting the rock and competitive plays, her drive and ambition will definitely provide many more happy moments to come. "It is a funny thing about life; if you refuse to accept anything but the best you very often get it!"

Bryan Robert Baxter

In the words of Bryan's idol, Johnny Most, his high school career has been "absolute pandamonium". He is easily recognized by his trademark "the orange sneakers". During the winter athletic season, Bryan can be found courtside with his sidekick, "The Dirty Dog", Glen Ordway, as "the voice of the Red Raiders". During the spring athletic season Bryan can be found holding down the hot corner of the FHS infield. Bryan plans to play baseball in college and major in History. Someday he plans to return to "the Burg" to teach history and fill the shoes of the living legend, Fred Sullivan.

Amy Theresa Beauregard

"Basically", is just one of the many odd sayings that Amy often repeats. She started out as a Freshman, just like the rest of us, but it took her longer to get involved. At the end of her Sophomore year she joined yearbook, and by December she knew almost everything she needed to know as a FHS yearbook editor — especially the combination to the soda machine. Yearbook has been the basis of her high school career, so it's no wonder that she lists "Hon Sue Gai" as her favorite memory, and Shifty as the greatest influence on the last two years she spent at FHS. Although she does admit to letting a lot of her life revolve around yearbook, she also tried to improve her academic career during her last year because of the strong desire to attend a good college. Amongst all these things she did actually have a little free time, which she filled by reading Danielle Steele books, or listening to her tape collection — which includes Air Supply, Michael Jackson, and Rick Springfield.

An outgoing person full of style and fun, to be unmatched and compared to none. Original and witty . . . she is no fake, radical and outrageous . . . she takes the cake. you can find her in the hall hanging out with her friends, or in the school library doing homework on end. She really loves to water ski . . . it is her passsion, and the way she dresses . . . always in fashion. If you ask her what she wants to be . . . it's undecided, artist or technologist . . . her worlds are collided. She loves Y + T and Whitesnake too, and you can also bet she's into Motley Crue. Some of her friends call her Paw-Paw Rambette, and all of them she will never forget. She had a lot of fun painting the rock, wishing that the partying never would stop. Matthew Baker Carlson

Matt, one of the class of '88's socialites, is easy to find at every sports activity (or party!). His most intellectual question is, "to drink or not to drink." Matt, who enjoys rebuilding his blazer, plans to pursue a business in autobody. After all, he'll need all his expertise to fix whatever he breaks after his four-wheeling expeditions! Although playing varsity basketball for FHS is Matt's fondest memory, he also includes those "good times" spent with Greg, Steve, and Chad. The most difficult obstacle in his life thus far has been trying to make it to homeroom on time! With that as the worst, Matt is a possible member for "Club Paradise".

Jeffrey Leonard Caron

Jeffrey "Bubba" Caron is a young man who takes pride in everything he does. He gives 100% to his school work, performance on the football field, golf course, and even to those "friendly" games of volleyball. He has received numerous athletic awards for his outstanding performances as outside linebacker and full-back, but if you were to ask what meant the most to him, he'd answer . . . "the people." Bubba has always enjoyed the lively and varied blend of students and staff at Fitchburg High. He hopes that in years to come, he'll be remembered for not only his athletic powers but more importantly for his ready smile, his good intentioned teasing (all women do belong in the kitchen), and for the fact that he knows how to be a friend and a positive example for those who cared to see.

Eva Patricia Filice

"I'm serious." As a late arrival from St. B's, Eva is a well known and welcomed member of the class of '88. Her contributions as a dedicated runner on the cross country, indoor track, and outdoor track teams are more than abundant. Her amiable personality is expressed with a laugh or smile hanging out in the halls with best friends Christina, Kim, and "cuz" Stella. Her wild side can be seen at the beach, where she practices her expertise as a manhunter. Her greatest influences have been her parents, friends, and "cuz." Her fondest memories while at FHS were football games, painting the rock, the senior prom, and getting lost during a cross country meet while running with Sue Babineau. Her ambition in life is to be rich and successful. "The journey of a thousand miles starts with a single step."

"Cousin" is often seen laughing in the hallways with her best friends Eva, Chris, and Kim. She will never forget being a part of cheering competition her sophomore year with her favorite pyramid partner. Her greatest influence was Kim Crute who taught her that the best mirror in life is an old friend. Her pet peeve was having coaches accuse her of having an attitude problem and resents ignoring the words of wisdom from her coaches to take high jumping with more seriousness. She always tried to settle discouraging defeats with the belief that "You must win without boasting, and lose without excuse." When not "supposedly" practicing she enjoys D.Q., B-BQ spareribs, and Monty's. She hopes to one day become as talented as her favorite sports figure Jackie Joyner. She's thankful for having as good a friend as Scott to watch over her for all four years in high school.

His fondest memory was beating Leominster's baseball team 9-0 under the lights for the first time in 10 years which then led them into the districts for the first time in 17 years. His accomplishments were achieved by his greatest influences, Fred Sullivan, and Coach Grutchfield in much the same way as his favorite sports figure Larry Bird did. He strongly believes "winning is everything, losing stinks." His pet peeve is his temper which tends to bring out the worst in him. He wishes he had improved his grades and hopes to become successful and wealthy. He enjoys listening to Whitney Houston, Beastie Boys, and "Against All Odds" as well as eating cheeseburgers. He enjoys reading The Umpire Strikes Back, watching Beverly Hills Cop II, and busting Stella, Kim, Christina, and Eva. One thing he'll be happy to forget is those four crazy girls going nuts in the hall. He is also happy to have met Stella, whom he will always remember for having a special place in his heart.

John David Lenschow

"It is written as I live saith the Lord, every knee shall bend to me, and every tongue shall confess to God." John is known as the biggest Chicago fan in all New England if not in the country, from the Bears to the White Sox, Cubs, and Bulls. He frequently argued with Chris and Mike about which teams were better. His fondest memory was rubbing it in when Chicago won the SuperBowl, and Fitchburg beating Leominster 29-2. His pet peeve was the condition of the school building. He regrets not taking part in more class activities. He plans to enter the business field and become wealthy.

Valerie Ruth Marble

Valerie's fondest memories of high school are leave fights, the party at Helen's, "thro me down a brew," the plays and early dismissal. You can find her sneaking in before the bell, and hangin' out with S.D., L.M., C.L., and R.L. She wishes she had kept in touch with old friends and that she had been more involved in school activities instead of work. She loves concerts, Journey, Tear for Fears, "Lionel" and lobster. Her favorite expressions are "You kill me" and "Too funny." Her pet peeve is underclassmen who go down the wrong stairwell. Valerie's future plans are to go to college majoring in early childhood education and minoring in art. She leaves FHS with no regrets but instead looks forward to new experiences. Her dream is to be an actress, but she knows it will be very difficult. She wants to do something good in her life, something that will help herself as well as others.

Sally Jean Morin

"Please don't take life so seriously — it's only a temporary situation." This is Sal's motto, which has helped her survive during these troublesome four years at FHS. When she's not home studying you can find her getting out her frustrations at Fred Villari's Studio of Self Defense or listening to her favorite station — Z94. During her spare time, Sally enjoys spending time with her best friends Cheryl and Kim at her favorite restaurant — Dan Chan's. Her mom and Ms. Manzello have been the greatest influences upon her high school career. She hopes that her future is successful as she majors in the fields of marine biology and environmental sciences.

"...without happiness, you see, all life's songs are sung off key." Tami's favorite quote is certainly appropriate, for her life long dream is to become a professional singer. There is no doubt she will achieve this with the constant support of her brother Mike. Although Tami has many memories at FHS, she lists Beach Week '87 as her favorite. When not "living it up" with her friends, you can find her listening to 107, Stevie Nicks, Heart, and James Taylor, or watching Michael Pare and Brian Bozworth on the tube. Tami's only regret is that she never made the honor roll, but says she will surely not miss the Freshmen. "Take life one day at a time, never look back and never regret."

John Joseph Richard

Four years at Fitchburg High School involved much studying and a lot of hard work. John spent many long hours at the Fitchburg State College library studying with his St. Bernard's friend Dom Shattuck. This is only one side of John's character, however. John finds relief during school hours by talking in the hallways between classes and participating in after school sports. As soon as the weekend comes, John enjoys listening to The Police, Peter Gabriel, and watching All In the Family. Watching Rodney Dangerfield and his favorite movie F/X are John's pastimes. Clint Eastwood, Larry Bird, the Celtics, Steve Winwood, U2, and General Public are also on John's watching and listening list. John loves to socialize at parties. If one hears "that's nice" or "he was out of control", it's most likely coming from John. John looks forward to a very prosperous future in the field of business.

A versitale dancer all her life, Holly spends hours after school attending dance classes at her mother's studio. A cheerleader during football season for three years, she can be found cheering our team and fans on always with a natural smile. "Within our power lies every step we ever dream of taking", is her philosophy and guide. Holly's future plans are to continue her dancing and a college education in a business related field. Her fondest memory of FHS is the March 14th dance of 1986. She thanks Scott for having the greatest influence on her high school career. She enjoys going to E.J. Maronies; lists Italian food as her favorite, and taking the school bus as her pet peeve.

Nydia Ivette Serrano

Nydia is a nice young lady who is easy to get along with. She likes to have fun once in a while by dancing and listening to the radio. Her hobbies are playing volleyball and basketball and watching football. When she's not home on weekends, she's easy to find out with her friends dancing and having fun. In the future, Nydia would like to go on to college in order to become a bookkeeper.

"He who gets mad, loses." "Vera" has set her goals at successfully finishing her Senior year in high school, and returning to Mexico with the ability to speak the English language fluently. She wants to continue her education at the University of Monterrey, where she hopes to get a degree in International Studies. Veronica gives credit to her parents for being the greatest influence during high school. Among her favorites things in life are chinese food, pizza, hamburgers and the book Diary of Anne Frank. She cites snakes and spiders as her pet peeves and believes that she has made a lot of very good friends at FHS. Veronica will always remember FHS for its contribution in helping her adapt and feel at home in her new surroundings. She believes in the quote "Don't walk in front of me; I may not follow. Don't walk behind me; I may not lead. Walk beside me, and just be my friend." Veronica is a special person which we will all miss. Her address for those who would like to continue their friendship with her is: Malvinas 340; Col. Vista Hermosa; Monterrey N.L., Mexico.

"The man that dies with the most toys, wins." If Steve were to die with a corvette and a swimming pool, he'd be satisfied. "Spriggo's" favorite memories of his high school life are the "sanctuary" and the "folsomites". Steve's exceedingly happy personality is portrayed best when he is hanging out with his best friend, Ash, or his girlfriend, Kristi. He fills his spare time stuffing his face with mushroom pizza, listening to Motley Crue, watching Rowdy Roddy Piper and Monty Python movies. Steve's greatest influence was himself and he regrets that he didn't convince himself to run for Senior Class President.

Scott Spyropoulos

"Spy" is usually seen driving his jeep with his radio blaring on WAAF or his favorite song "Lunatic Fringe". His greatest influence throughout high school is cited as Jim Ide for making him late every morning. His pet peeves are homeroom teachers who make a big deal about being tardy. He wishes he had spent as much time on the football field itself than in the hospital. With his words of wisdom, "Intimidate and Dominate", Scott will go far and achieve many goals. As long as he stays away from enticing mailboxes which his friends Jim, Chamb, and Scott Posco failed to avoid. His favorite sports figure is known by everyone to be Walter Payton which explains why 1st and Ten is his favorite show. Scott enjoys eating Priazzo's, categorizing certain people as "zeros" and pities two certain obnoxious bleach blondes whom seem to have mistaken him for someone who cares about their problems. His fondest memories at FHS include being "reunited" with Jim Freshman year, being given the opportunity to remain close friends with Stella, and spending the two years of high school with Steph. He's a man with a few words yet many moods.

Dawn Tracey St. Martin

Dawn is often a quiet person. You can usually find her getting into trouble in her classes with Nydia. When she's not getting into trouble with Nydia she's in the cafeteria getting in trouble with Doreen. If she's not in school or working at Wendy's she hangs out at her mom's sandwich shop on Main St. Also if Dawn's not working, you can find her at Hudson Race Track with her boyfriend Jim.

Gerald David Sullivan Jr.

"Hey what's up?" Jerry was often been spotted in the cafeteria waking up to coffee and a doughnut with his friends. These friends, nicknamed "The Breakfast Club" have been the greatest part of his fondest memories. Jerry has spent most of his time either working, or camping with his friends. Unfortunately, this left no time for extracurricular activities, and he regrets not participating more. Jerry enjoys listening to the Grateful Dead in the cab of his ford truck, and eating at expensive restaurants when someone else is paying, partying with his friends, MacGyver, Platoon, and the "Wilderness Manuel" were also some of his favorites. With a future career planned in the United States Air Force, Jerry plans to earn a degree in aviation.

"Strong but silent," is the only way to describe "Tooley". Whether as captain on the gridiron or in the circle throwing, Tooley has proven himself not only as an able athlete, but a fine leader. Chris strives for perfection and is very hard on himself when he doesn't achieve it. Someday he hopes to come back to Fitchburg High to teach and coach the Red Raider football team through a winning season. In the words of the immortal John Hannah "You do your best, in whatever situation you find yourself in, whether it happens to be fair or not.

Although Julie regrets not participating in many school activities she has kept herself busy with her church functions and responsibilities. She has been on the Youth Council and attended the Nazarene Youth Congress to progress in church leadership. She is also a Junior member of the Fitchburg Women's Club. She enjoys playing volleyball and softball. She listens to Carmen and Sandi Patti for entertainment. Her most memorable time at F.H.S. was her first day of school after moving here from Maine. Her parents have been the greatest influence on her school years. Her future plans are to become a medical missionary specializing in pediatrics. This is why her favorite quote is from Matthew 28:19-20 —"Therefore go and make disciples of all nations . . . And surely I am with you always to the very end of the age."

Michael Andrew Trainor

In the words of Bobby Knight, "Many have the will to win, but few have the will to prepare to win." Mike entered F.H.S. in his Junior year and had the will to make his last two years his best. He was elected Senior Class President and served as the Governor of the 1987 Massachusetts Boys State Program. Mike made the lines, "Virtue Through Virginity" famous as "Brother Billy Bob" in the 1987 Competitive Plays. A scholar-athlete, Mike participated in Varsity Cross-Country and track. During the winter athletic season, Mike could be found making a major contribution to the traditional excellence of the F.H.S. Varsity Basketball Team. In his spare time, Mike enjoys going out with fellow "Dirty Dogs". Mike plans to attend either Duke or Georgetown University and major in pre-medicine.

Timothy James Trainor

Tim entered FHS in his Junior year and made a valuable contribution to the class of 1988. Before school he was often found in the library doing homework and talking with friends. Tim was very involved with FHS as Vice-President of the Senior class. After school, he was often seen participating in athletic activities. During the winter sports season, Tim could be found contributing to the winning FHS basketball team. On the weekends, he and his fellow "Dirty Dogs" could often be found, toilet paper in hand, terrorizing fellow FHS students. Tim plans to attend college and become a pre-med or communications major.

Christine Mary Tree

"What were we supposed to do last night?" is this straight A student's favorite expression. Her fondest memories of FHS include the 4th floor lockers and jumping balconies while her only regret is that she didn't party more. Chris is never too busy to talk to a friend except on Tuesday nights. Tuesdays are devoted to Moonlighting, her favorite television show. Chris can often be found playing field hockey or just hanging around with her boyfriend Dave, and good friend Tammy. As she says, "Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, it could pass you by."

Billie Jo's ambition is to work in a large company and go to college at night. Her favorite expression, as her friends could tell you, is "What's your problem?" and her favorite quote is "do whatever your heart desires." The person who most influenced Billie Jo's high school career is her mother. She feels that she made the right decision on what courses she took. She likes Jon Bon Jovi's album "Slippery When Wet", but her favorite song is "Here I Go" by White Snake. She enjoys watching Days of Our Lives and her favorite move is The Karate Kid.

Greta Marie Vaillette

Greta enjoys reading and collecting comic books in her spare time. Greta also works at Esper Pharmacy part time. Her ambition is to become either a Pharmacists or a Marine Biologist. She also likes going for Chinese food and listening to Phil Collins.

Michael Steven Varieur

"Mike" is a well-known member of the class. His greatest ambition is to attend college and study medicine. He sights his family as his greatest influence in his high school years. His fondest memory of FHS is painting the rock and getting to see Howie covered in white paint the next day. However, he really regrets getting paint thinner poured down his pants. Mike can usually be found with his friends eating Italian food or listening to WAAF and Boston. Where ever there's Mike, there's a smile.

What's your favorite club or activity? Why?

Yearbook, it's made up of great people and it gives me a feeling of accomplishment.

— Liz Lino

Basketball, it's a highly competitive sport.

— Kevin Baron

Basketball and coaching cheerleaders (on a junior high level), because I enjoy it.

— Kerrie Miner

Which class activity promotes the most class spirit and why?

Basketball because we have a great team and it's easy to get the crowd in the game.

— Stella Filice

I think the games basketball, football, and the Jr-Sr games promote class spirit,, because they bring people together.

— Ash Awad

Basketball because if you have good teams and a lot of people go and watch them.

— Kim Walsh

What clubs(s) would you like to see at F.H.S.?

Swimming team, Debating Club, and a real Drama Club.

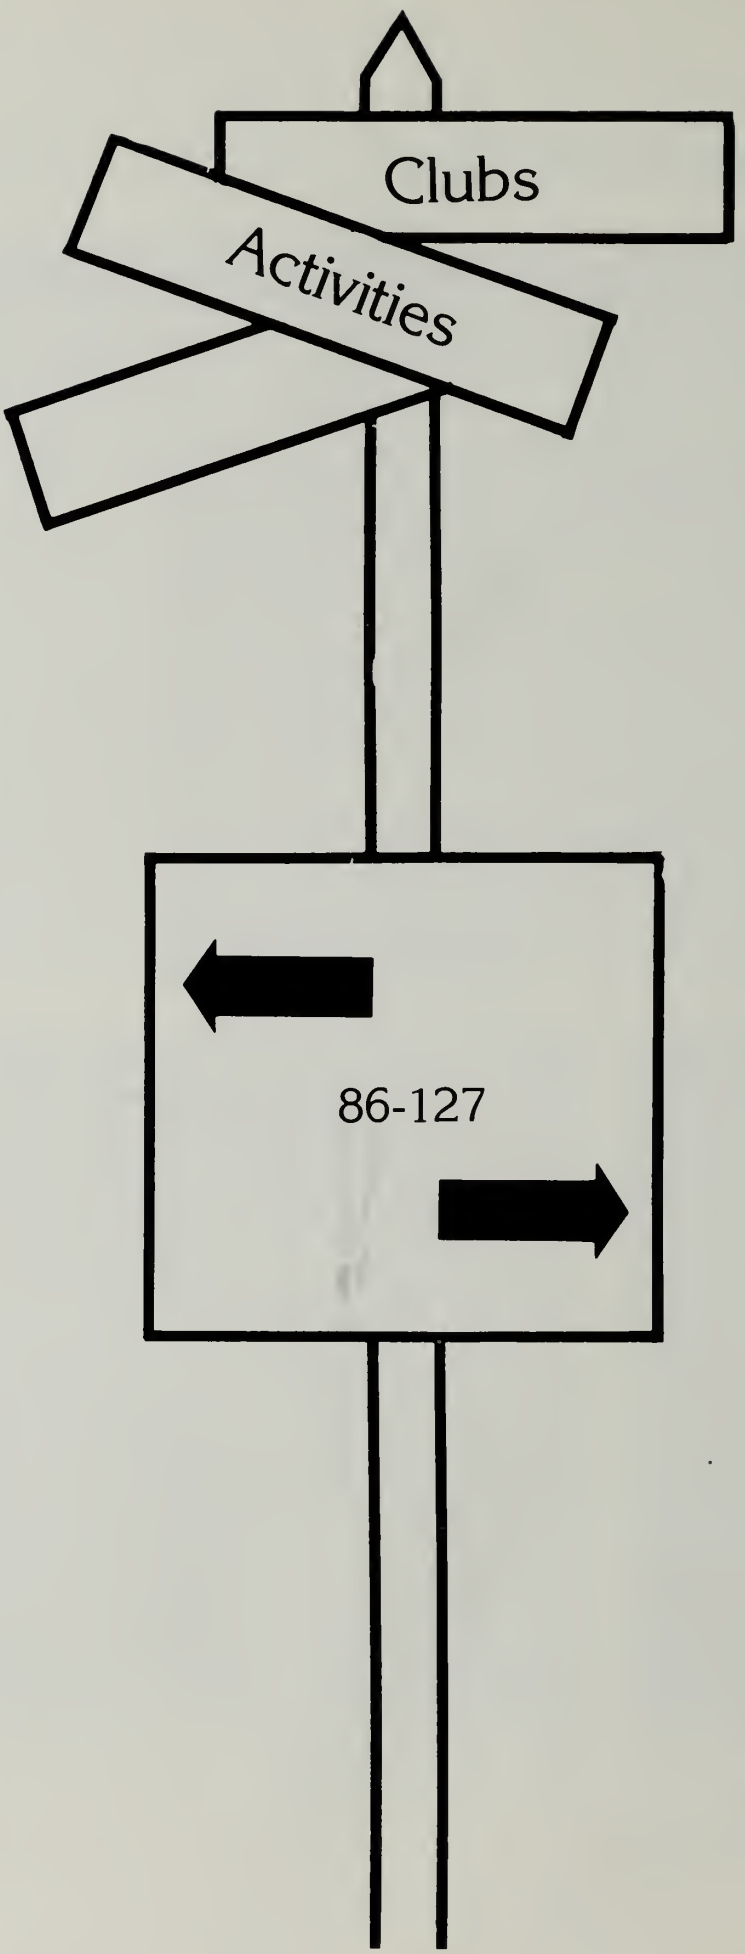

— Danielle Holland

Wrestling because a lot of the area high schools have it and it's cool.

— Tracy Rameau

I'd like to see wrestling here. It would have been fun to participate in while I was here.

— Karl Pfanzelter

WINNIE THE POOH

After the success of last year's children's show, Ms. Gallo and the Seniors decided to follow the trend. The musical play chosen this year was Winnie the Pooh.

Try-outs were held ... the cast was chosen ... rehearsals began. The cast consisted of many new faces as well as some familiar ones from the competitive plays. None of us realized just how much work we had ahead of us. We not only had our blocking and lines to learn, we had to learn songs and most importantly, to work together.

After searching high and low, we finally managed to find a piano player. Instead of an adult we had a member of the Senior class, Christine Tree, which made it a little more special. We rehearsed for weeks on the basics but spent quite a bit of time doing other things: getting measured for costumes, creating our own costumes where necessary, painting the infamous blocks for our "tree", getting the props we needed, and most of all — having fun.

Finally it was time: Opening night! In just a few short months we had all become the famous animals we once loved as kids. Thursday went well but come Friday, Pooh Bear had no voice. But as the old saying goes — the show must go on; and it did.

It wasn't over yet though. We still had four more performances the following week for the area's elementary schools. Seeing the looks on the little kids faces was indescribable. Each performance was special in its own way. We ended the shows by giving out lollipops. All of us got a chance to meet the kids, shake their hands, hug them, and even sing Christmas carols heir hands, hug them, and even sing Christmas carols with some of them. It became just as much a treat for us as it was for them.

The curtain opened for that final performance and it was time to say good-bye to Winnie the Pooh. A feeling of relief came over us but more so a feeling of sadness. It was over! It was really over!

To be honest, it will never be over. Not as long as we all have our own memories of Winnie the Pooh to look back on.

CHRISTMAS FAIR

The annual Christmas Fair at Fitchburg High School was in as good spirit as Christmas itself. It was a time for all F.H.S. students to gather in the cafeteria and share their Christmas spirit with their school. The excitement stirred within everyone and even ole' st. Nick took time to visit and take a few photos with the students and teachers. Student Council was the supporter of taking pictures with Santa and his two elves, while Drama Club tempted everyone with ice-cream and their choice of many toppings.

On the more traditional side of Christmas, was the Jobs for Bay State Graduates table who sold little Rudolph candy canes, brownies, and banana bread. They also had a large jar filled with M&M's and had people guess how many they thought were in the jar.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

Auditions ... the hope of seeing your name on the cast list ... the confusion of the first few rehearsals ... blocking ... projection ... memorizing lines ... the big night ... the makeup of Competitive Plays. As the flowers begin to slither out from beneath the soil, the young aspiring actors and actresses juggle their schedules to include the play as well as spring sports. The joy that comes from involvement in Competitive Plays is the sense of competition as well as drama. It's the chance to express yourself as another person, a totally different character. It's the opportunity to work together as a class to produce the best play. There's a special feeling that blooms inside as a result of the blending glare of the lights, the reaction of the audience, and the overall sense of accomplishment.

As each class works to perfect their play, there's the plotting of the cast members to get to the auditorium directly after school. That way your class can have first rehearsal. This past season was no different than any other. Many memories were made that could never be forgotten — Renee's sneezing ... the many tears shed by the Class of '87 ... Mike's "Virtue through Virginity" ... "Where's Pasha? Here Pasha!" ...Carlos Juan.

As a result of hard work and lots of dedication the Class of '88 came away with the win. "A Typically A Typical Day" performed to the best of their ability proved to be the overall favorite among the judges. The Class of '88 had a lot of fun doing this play and felt a great sense of accomplishment by beating their ultimate competition, the Class of '87

NO SURRENDER

The summer was over and it was time. Our time. We came with fire in our eyes and determination in our hearts. Double sessions began and with them came the hope that this would be a year of remembrance for all of us. Everyday for a week and a half we worked and struggled. Then came the scrimmages against Marlboro and Nahoba. Our bodies and minds had been fired with sweat and pain and it was time to test the metal we had forged. When it came time to weld it we could cut and thrust like no other team and we entered the regular season with excitement and optimism.

We opened our season with the Oakmont Spartans. The night before the game was filled with intense anticipation and anxieties. We couldn't wait for the game to start and you could feel it in the air the next morning. We ran out onto the field fastening our helmets looking like the modern day gladiators that we were. We were challenged and over came it with a win.

We were confident going into the St. Peter Marian game. The Guardians proved to be tougher than expected and bravely played us through the whole game. Their unexpected abilities did not affect the outcome of the games as we rose above ourselves and captured another victory.

The Mountaineers were ready to play and provided the opportunity for us to witness this. We pushed each other over the white lines of the field to no avail. Finally in the end we came up with a powerful surge and left the field with another victory.

Winning these games put us on top of the world and secure forever the fact that we were here to play.

Then fate struck and we were slipped our first defeat by a local rival. St. Bernard's came into the game wanting revenge for their previous week's loss. We came into the game wanting blood after waiting for the chance to avenge our defeat at their hands a year earlier. The game was long and hard and full of emotion and rivalry.

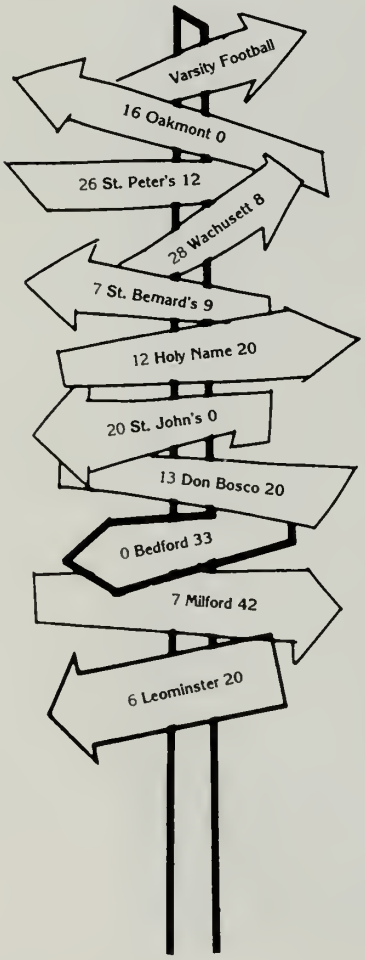

We faced Holy Name the following week. Infuriated and seeking vengeance, we threw our bodies headlong into the Naps who felt the sting of the powerful blows. This was a victory. For we had faced a physically bigger team and came within a step of walking away victoriously.

A powerful display of our hard hitting style downed St. John's. Again we hurled ourselves at our enemy needless of our bodies objections. We brought home a long awaited victory from Pioneer Field ending a three year drought.

Homecoming brought celebration and Don Bosco brought defeat. They came at us from all sides. We fought and scraped in a pumped-up skull cracking game.

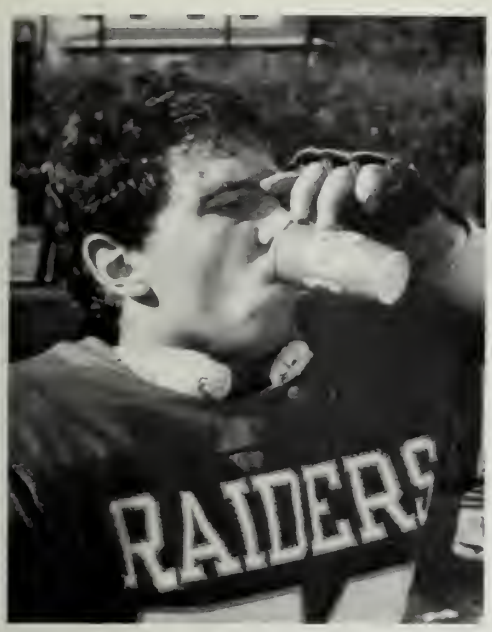

Our time was waning but our desire was still strong.

Bedford attacked and so did we. They were a well rounded team and we played above ourselves that day. When the Raiders' final hit resounded at the field, Bedford had won.

Derrick Bennett cools down after a hard run against St. Peter.

Milford was a mental challenge. We as a team had to overcome the common feelings of respect for an undefeated team and play football. The Scarlet Hawks won the game but we met the challenge.

Along the way many players were lost. Some in scrimmages. Some before the season was even begun and some in games. Those that had the chance to play did so courageously. They will not be forgotten.

Throughout the season we promised ourselves that no matter what happened we would play our hardest and to the fullest of our capabilities. During the season we took no prisoners. We asked no quarter and gave none. For us there was, no surrender.

104th Meeting a True Classic

The records, as everyone knew, were tossed out on this day. The F.H.S.-L.H.S. game this year was a tough, big play spectacle. Sure it was muddy but it was football at its best.

Leominster had to come up with a gutsy 3rd quarter TD to pull ahead of a determined Red Raider team and go on to a 20-6 win. The drive, the TD, the 2 point conversion and the subsequent defensive series was keyed by Jr. Brian Picucci.

Fitchburg took a 6-0 lead in the 1st quarter with a tough defense that pinned the Blue Devils in their own end of the field. The Raiders threw Leominster out of its offensive rhythm and kept the Devils from getting organized to mount any kind of drive. When the snap of a punt attempt squirted awry, Bubba Caron, Steve Deadwyler and Chad Adams pounced on kicker Keith Collette to give the Raiders the ball at the Devil 29.

Fitchburg ran Caron up the middle and Collins through the tackle slots without much success but a fumble turned to the Raiders' advantage. A piling on penalty brought the ball to the 15 yard line. Quarterback Mark Pierce found Derrick Bennett in the end zone. The senior wide-out made a great diving catch for the score. The kick failed.

Leominster came right back and only a goal-line stand by the defense kept the Devils out of the end zone. As the Raiders keyed on John Caouette, the Devils drove deep into F.H.S. territory only to be turned away on a tough 4th and inches call.

In the second half of the ball game Leominsters depth proved to be too much for the much undermanned Raiders as Leominster pushed the ball up field with two fine runs by the Caouette brothers. Despite the loss and the final score Fitchburg and Leominster gave the fans a True Classic contest.

OH YEAH!

Well another season has come and gone. For some of us, it's our last. But this past season was a lot of fun and definitely our most successful. We were finally recognized as a sport and issued warm-up suits by the school. And through the sale of key chains and car wash tickets, we were able to purchase jackets to wear at those chilly games. We looked sharp and felt good too. As a result of our annual trip to cheering camp, we learned many new stunts that we perfected throughout the season.

But those days of practice towards perfection were long and painful. The bases learned to live with torn and bleeding knees, with the help of taping up beforehand. And the top people overcame their fear of being airborne, after a few misses and hard landings. We had a few accidents where people's faces met other people's faces quite often. But no pain, no gain. And we made it through bruised or not. We had our disagreements on many things ... songs for Thanksgiving ... costumes for Thanksgiving ... which jacket to get ... etc. But for those who know the varsity football cheerleaders, that is nothing new.

Whether it was rain or shine, win or lose, we were always there to cheer the team on. We managed to keep smiling even when all our hopes of winning were lost. And win or lose we were always proud of the football team and their efforts. But always remember Wipe Out ... the Thanksgiving rally and not being able to hear the music ... those long practices cut short by the synchronizing of our watches ... and the friends made along the way!

BOYS' CROSS-COUNTRY ENJOY OUTSTANDING SEASON

For most cross-country teams, to go eighth in the Districts to fourth in the States in only one year, would only be a dream. However, that dream became a reality for the 1987 cross-country team. The team was hit hard due to graduation, losing two of its top runners in Doug Gastonguay and Joey Latimer. But, St. John's transfers Mike and Tim Trainor more than picked up the slack, and Freshman Jamie Cascio and Juniors Ray Boutotte and Dave Beaulac were pleasant surprises.

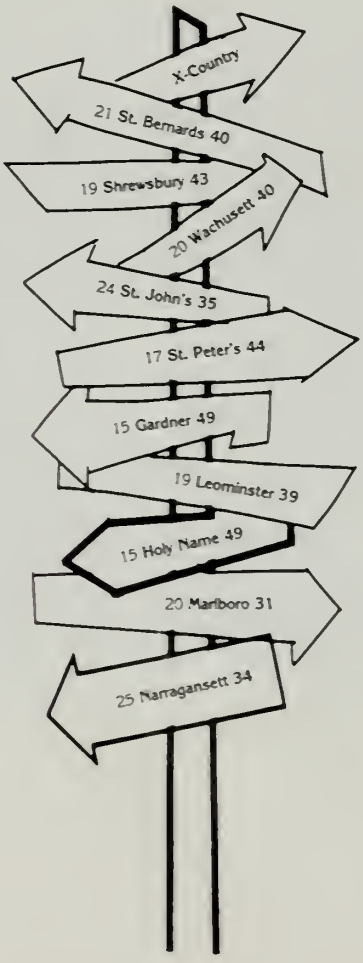

The season started off bleak, as Mike Trainor suffered a serious injury to his right foot and Wachusett couldn't run on the day scheduled. This meant the first race wouldn't be until September 22 against St. Bernard's. The St. Bernard's race came and along with it torrential rains. Through puddles and mud, the powerful Red Raiders glided to an easy victory.

The Raiders next big test came against three-time defending District Champion St. John's. In a close race, the Raiders pulled it out with a heroic effort from Senior Angel Santiago. With flaring determination, Santiago ran his best race of the year, as the Raiders celebrated their hard fought victory.

The season quickly moved along. As the end of October neared, two obstacles stood in the way; the Wachusett Invitational and the C.M.C. Championships. In the Invitational, a gutsy performance by Dave Gagne, who was tripped at the start, picked himself up and still managed to place fifteenth, led the Raiders to a first place finish. This was the first Wachusett Invitational Championship won by Fitchburg since 1979. In the C.M.C. Championship, the Red Raiders were crowned C.M.C. champs with a relatively easy victory over the rest of the conference. Here, Sophomore sensation Craig Cormier and Wonder Twins Mike and Tim became C.M.C. all-stars.

When November 14th came, so did the District E division one race. The Red Raiders boarded the bus knowing they were the favorites to become District Champions, and that if they won, it would be the first District Championship for Fitchburg in its history.

However, it wasn't to be. Changing the course from the golf course to the highway favored the underdogs. At the 2.8 mile mark the Raiders had six people packed in the top ten. But, although tremendous races were turned in by Cormier and Mike and Tim Trainor, the Raiders had to settle for second place. Ash Awad and Dave Gagne faltered at the end, losing key places and despairingly watching two St. John's runners pass them to clinch their fourth consecutive District Championship. It just didn't seem fair, to end a season this way.

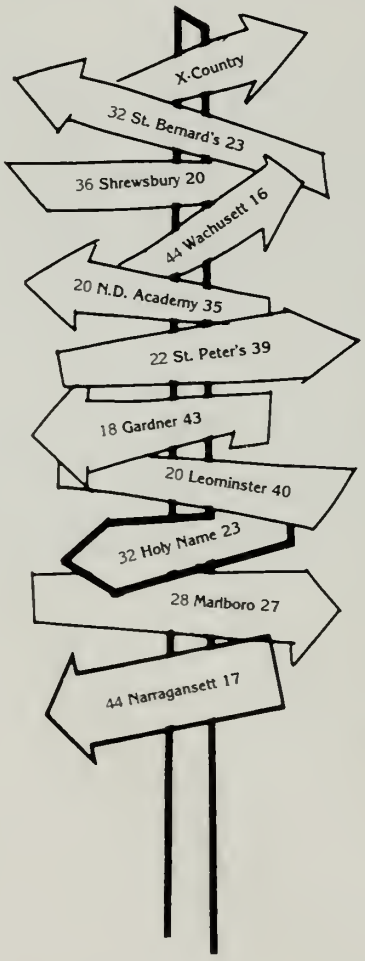

THE ART OF SQUIRREL CHASING

The 1987 girls' cross-country team had more than their share of problems catching those little gray creatures. This season started out with a splash, and I do mean splash! We were all hoping for our first victory against cross town rival St. Bernard's. Little did we know that a passing thunderstorm would drench us before we had ever begun to run. The course was filled with puddles (or should we say lakes), and we came up with a disappointing loss. Who could ever forget that some of us had a little bit of trouble finding their way to the finish line (Eva, Sue, and Veronica), never mind jumping and hurdling over puddles at the same time. After drying ourselves off, we could only hope that things would get better, but would they? Shrewsbury was next. We hadn't beaten them in years. But we trained hard, listening to our coach, hoping to keep it a close contest. One could at least hope it wouldn't rain again. Defeat fell upon us again, but it did not rain. As we looked ahead to Wachusett, we were craving for a victory. Keeping our heads high, we chased those squirrels, but as it turned out Wachusett chased them faster. We finally got a taste of victory over Notre Dame Academy, even though we weren't in the spotlight after the boys beat St. John's. It did not matter though, we won! Our team was immensely helped by Shanni Laaksonen and two Freshmen, Kim Walsh and Kim Thomas, all running in front of the pack. Progressing along our next two meets were victories against St. Peters and Gardner. The Gardner meet is one we will never forget, we won even without two of our front runners. We bypassed Leominster and kept going until we met Tiffany Columbe and the running force of Holy Name. We were stopped dead in our tracks, not to mention Ms. Auger's dispute with a football player. Meanwhile, Kim Troest and Mary Ellen O'Connell cheered us on from their usual positions on the team, the sidelines. Our last two meets were losses to Marlboro, by one point, and Narragansett. Many people contributed to what Coach called his "nightmares," Caroline Goldrick, Karen Benson, Bobbie-Jo Tarr, Renee Robichaud, Janice Drummond, and Sue Eringi to mention a few.

Many friendships and memories were made. We'll never forget the "chocolate swirl loop," running through the Leominster Lake, the performances of Junior Varsity Leigh and Carrie-Anne LeCourt in the Districts, and the long talks Ash gave us on the bus.

FIELD HOCKEY

Although the 1987 F.H.S. Field Hockey teams didn't end the season with the most outstanding records, both J.V. and Varsity have a great deal to be proud of. The close of the summer of 1987 brought many new faces and a wide variety of talent to the Memorial Jr. High School field. Spirits were soaring and the desire to "win" hung overhead in the air. New sweat suits and new sticks replaced the old battered ones and a sense of self-confidence replaced last years'.

As the season ticked away, their spirits began to wane. But with an immense amount of determination and a nagging coach, both teams gave it their all. They worked hard at every game. On November 2, 1987, this long, hard season was brought to a dramatic closing. To many of the players it was just the end of another season, but to six Seniors it marked the end of their career in F.H.S. Field Hockey. It was a season of hard work and many good memories. No one can ever forget the spit-ball wars, Barb's bribes, or even the infamous game against the Boys' Varsity Cross-Country team. (Of course they cheated!!) Moreover, who can forget the coaches obsession with running? But no matter if the F.H.S. Field Hockey Teams were running up and down the field, playing in a game, or pushing balls across the fields with their noses, they definitely excelled in their determination, commitment, and pride for the good 'ole "Red and Gray!"

JUNIOR VARSITY FIELD HOCKEY

It was a hard year for J.V. Field Hockey, without a single victory. Almost the whole team was brand new and inexperienced. There were various injuries but the team still had a drive to succeed. At the last game we realized that although we did not win any games, the team learned how to play field hockey. We also learned teamwork, a sense of responsibility, and friendship. Field hockey was hard work, but when the team gets that goal in '88, everybody will get it. We had a lot of fun and made a lot of new friends.

SOCCER

When the team starts practicing way back in August, one really doesn't know what they're getting into. There is a lot of hard work and hot days before the cool days of September and October roll around. To say there is a lot of running involved would be an understatement. Running 2-3 miles a day, and sometimes close to seven, one would think we were the cross-country team. But what we really were, was in very good shape. And to play soccer one must be able to run for a long time. To do all of this work and prepare so hard one would think that we would not have fun, especially since we did not win many games. This was not the case. I have played on many winning teams but few of them matched the fun I had this year. This year I learned how to play the game, and I also learned that it was a tough game to play but playing for Coach Aristequi was also very fun. The bottom line is win, lose, or draw, we always had fun.

This year the team's record was not very good. But I think we learned to play the game, have fun doing it, and most of all we learned as a team to love the game.

"Against All Odds."

This year's Fitchburg High Team may represent Doug Grutchfield's greatest coaching job in a storied 27-year career. Asked to characterize this season, one in which Fitchburg won an astounding District E, Division 1 title, the 49-year old coach came out with the title of a movie: "Against All Odds."

Coming into this season, the Red Raiders had an unproven 6'5" center and no other starter standing above 6 feet. They had lost Norbert Pickett, the school's all-time leading scorer, to graduation. Returning were fine shooting guard Derrick Bennett and forward Mike Goodchild, a scrappy but sometimes erratic point guard in Nick Pappas, and guard Mike Trainor, who played some junior varsity the previous season.

Many people had gloomy predictions for F.H.S. this season. Well, we all know what happened. The Red Raiders posted an 18-2 regular season record, defeated Marlboro, Wachusett, and Milford in the playoffs to win the district title, and then fell to Chicopee Comp. in the state semifinals.

Characteristic of Grutchfield's teams, the Red Raiders came to play every night this season, with the exception of a game late in the schedule against Marlboro, in which they were blown out by 31 points. The game was played two days after an emotional game against St. John's, and it was a combination of the Raiders' being drained and Marlboro playing well.

Three weeks later the Raiders found themselves facing those same Panthers in the first round of the District playoffs. This time the result was an effective job done by the defense and a well deserved overtime victory.

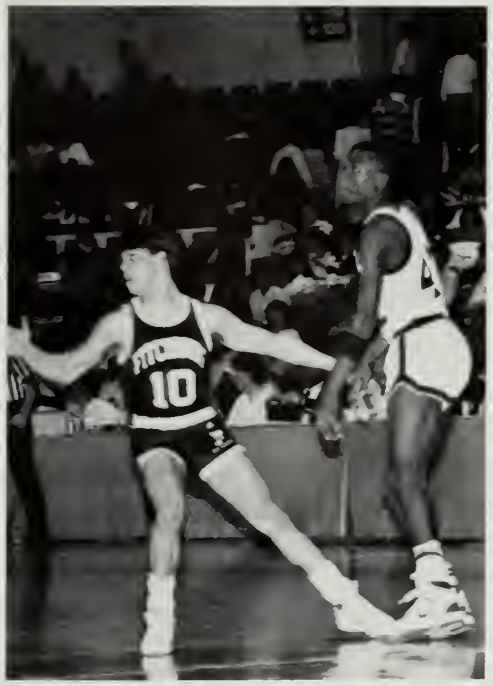

"I am really proud of what these kids have accomplished," Grutchfield said. "I think because we've been successful people tend to take a lot for granted. A good example is this year's team with the kids we had with the lack of size. To be 21-3 is an amazing accomplishment. I just hope that people appreciate what these kids and all of the kids over the years have done."

Girls Varsity Basketball

The F.H.S. Girls' Varsity Basketball Team had a very competitive season this year. Faced with such perennial powers as St. Peter-Marian, Wachusett, Marlboro, Holy Name, and Leominster, the girls had one of the toughest schedules in the state.

Since the tallest player was only 5'7", the team had to rely on its quickness and speed, and its relentless full-court press to wear down opponents. The girls' final record of 9-11 was not indicative of the hard work and dedication that was present throughout the season. The girls also took many of the tough teams right down to the final seconds of the game, and made their presence known on the court. Head Coach Tony Alario often received compliments from opposing coaches on the work ethic and perserverance of his players. As the perfect finale to a hard fought season, the team beat District-bound Holy Name in the last game of the year.

The team was led by Senior Co-Captains Laura Deacon, Jenney Houle, and Marni Kirousis. Laura, whose three-point shot was well-known throughout the C.M.C. League, provided a lot of the team's outside shooting, and also won the Best Defense Award. Jenney, the recipient of the Most Improved Player Award and a C.M.C. Honorable Mention All-Star, used her excellent inside moves to score against much taller opponents. Marni, the team's point guard, who was very successful in breaking other team's presses and provided excellent floor leadership, was also a C.M.C. Honorable Mention All-Star and won the Coach's Award. Megan Stephens, a very talented junior, provided the team with a big scoring punch. Sophomore starter Paula Goodchild was the team's leading rebounder, and also provided outside scoring. Paula could also be relied on to help out at the point guard position. Junior Marcie Noqueira finished the season very strongly. Her picture-perfect jumpshot gave the team another dimension in outside scoring, and her quickness on defense resulted in many turnovers. Sophomore Deanna Baxter also finished the season strongly. Deanna, who played both forward and center, came off the bench in many close games to help the team with her rebounding and inside moves. Junior Cristi Zimirowski used her excellent quickness and defensive moves to cause many turnovers on the press, and her three-point shot helped

ADMINISTRATION DEPARTMENT

Administration is a key part of the school system. It's the brains behind the performance of the school, good or bad. Their performance reflects the attitude and appearance of the whole school (which makes their already tough job even harder). It constitutes of Mr. Welch, Principal, Ms. Giaquinto, Soph./Sr. Vice-Principal, and newcomer Mr. Masciarelli, Fr./Jr. Vice-Principal. Together they form the elite group of people that make up administration. They continue to overwhelm us with their new techniques of organizing a better school system and provide us with a model of leadership.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Thanks to the cool heads and steady hands of these super-humans, everything from class schedules to college applications are processed efficiently and expediently — and all with a smile! Whether it be for advice, accomplishment or just to chat, the doors in guidance are never locked. However, for those times when Seniors forget to "keep the communications open" with Ms. Manzello and the rest of the guidance staff, has become quite adapt at tracking down delinquent deadline — delayers. Otherwise, all systems are "go" when there's a fresh pot of coffee, a heated office and a desk bulging under a mass of organized clutter.

MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT

The future Raphaels of F.H.S. have in John Lukas a master to be envied. He patiently stresses the commitment to creative expression.

The best loved facilities of FHS is the library, opening its doors to the vagrants of study halls or last minute cramming. It provides a temporary refuge from the classroom.

Substitutes withstand everything from rowdy students to giving out the wrong assignments. They manage to hold down the fort when the teachers "escape" from their daily duties.

The music department is made up of talented people who represent our school with pride an assurance. Two good examples are the band and chorus who display their school spirit in whatever they do.

SPECIAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The special education department of the high school is a caring group of individuals. The teachers here work with a small group of students who need extra help in their studies. They also help them with emotional and social problems. The department encourages their students that anything is possible and to go after their dreams, whatever they might be. They help the students overcome their fears and turn them into hopes. The special education department is made up of understanding teachers who take pride in their job and most importantly, in their students.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The physical education at F.H.S. is made up of a unique group of teachers. They face the everyday problems of bruised fingers, broken bones, and student's screams. As teachers, they take on the task of trying to teach the students with two left feet the proper technique of pillow polo, hockey, or volleyball. Their tasks include keeping the student body in shape and forcing the girls to walk the track on rainy days. All in all, physical education provides us with some fond memories of our friends in sweat suits running around the gym.

ESL DEPARTMENT

The ESL department, or English as a Second Language, helps the students with their English. These students tackle the course with vitality, striving to be able to speak English as if they were born speaking it. They learn English and keep up in all their other classes. That may sound like a difficult thing to do, but these students, whose first languages are Laotian, Spanish, and Korean, don't seem to mind. Even the teachers have to sacrifice something, for not all can speak the languages that students have spoken all of their lives. So when it all comes down, the student is not the only one that gains a new experience because the teacher learns just as much as the students do.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

"From Spain to France to ancient Rome,no finer language teachers can be found than our own." The department is made up of Spanish, Latin, French, and the new addition, German. The foreign languages open up our minds to the world outside. It opens up new doors to different cultures. All courses are offered for four years and are a fun part of the day to most of us. The staff, Ms. Breau, Dr. Chakemian, Dr. Osteroth, Mrs. Peltola, and Miss Reynolds, are the brains behind the department; always thinking up new ways to teach their "sacred" language. The foreign language teachers of F.H.S. are clearly doing a good job. They overcome the challenge of having to teach the most unlikely students a new language and many have succeeded in their goals. Anyone that can do that, has literally performed miracles.

MATH DEPARTMENT

"Are we ever going to need this in our lives?", is a favorite quote in the math department. Whether dealing with the Law of Sines or the definition of a limit, these questions are a must. But each and every time these questions are proposed, this crew of dry-wits are able to come up with a completely different response. In the classroom or out, this group of brilliant scholars and entertainers are always willing to help. As teachers first, they are willing to help clarify, or rather increase, your massive confusion. If similar triangles or the addition of fractions loses you totally, one will easily fine one of the math teachers willing to help. If perhaps you're even beyond help, they are usually pretty good at cheering you up. Secondly, they are our friends. So, when just plain survival is all that one wants, one won't have to look very far for a life jacket. Lastly, they are the greatest display of comedians ever assembled. One usually finds it hard to escape just one math class without even a snicker. Before long even the most devastated student will be able to answer with a positive response to our favorite bumper sticker, "Are we having fun yet?"

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

English is a subject that everyone thinks he or she has mastered by now, but the English teachers have a different point of view. The English department has it's hands full with trying to teach the students the fundamentals of grammar, Shakespeare, Dickens, and other parts of our language. This department is the backbone of the school. Where else can we get a book report assignment that's due a week after it's been mentioned. Or how about the "fascinating" novels we are required to read, Old Man and the Sea, Wuthering Heights, Hamlet, and Farewell to Arms. However, English prepares us for college, PSAT's, SAT's and perhaps for life itself.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

We all have some goal we wish to achieve in life and this proves to be especially true for those of us who wish to pursue a career in the world of business. When students graduate from high school they lose the security of always having a second chance and that is why Fitchburg High has an outstanding business department to aid them in their future careers. Students not only learn typing and keyboarding but many other business practices, such as office practice, word processing, stenography, accounting, record keeping, basic business, and many others.The thrill of the business world can be of great nature, and with experience and knowledge toward one's job, it unlocks many doors with the key of success. The business department may prepare students for the business world but it could not be possible without the help and endurance of the teachers. They may seem a bit tough at first but they are always there to help, and the reward is tremendous. With the skills and experience gained, there is no telling how much one can accomplish. The opportunities are all around and the possibilities of high achievements are endless, but once again you must need a small taste of what the business world is all about and what it has to offer.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

The social studies department at F.H.S. has an excellent reputation. Some students may flinch at the sight of a world map or a history book but to others it is an adventure and opportunity to travel back in time and around the world in 45 minutes. Its courses include World History, Sociology, and U.S. History. It's more then just opening up a book and memorizing it word for word and taking notes until you've rewritten the book. No, social studies is a chance to learn from others mistakes and triumphs, and also a chance to gain a better understanding of people in history who contributed something. This course, though, would not be what it is today if it were not for the teachers, who are both fun-loving and excellent educators. They are the ones who encourage students to learn and use methods of teaching that students like and adapt to easily.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

As the scientific and technical world around us grow ever so rapidly, the F.H.S. science department meets the challenge or preparing the future scientists of the world to meet the challenge of the ever growing science field. The department offers a vast variety of courses such as biology, physical science, chemistry, and physics. The "scientists", otherwise known as "teachers", are a mixture of comical people each with their own special way of teaching. Mr. Schedin and his experiments with strange toxic concoctions, Mrs. Dyer and Mr. Koykka with their versions of dissections and the world of microbiology. Colophon

The Boulder is an annual publication by the Yearbook Staff of Fitchburg High School, Fitchburg, Massachusetts 01420. It was distributed in August 1988.

The Boulder was printed by Hunter Publishing Co., Winston-Salem, NC. Number of copies was 300. This volume, the 76th, contains 232 pages with a trim size of 8½" x 11", including 16 pages of 4 color. Our cover, which is hardback, was printed in 4 color using the litho process. It was smythe sewn and made on white book cloth with special lamination for protection. The artwork was completed by Hunter Publishing Co., and the original was supplied by both a student and the advisor. The colors used were a special red, and a black gradation screen.

The end sheets are #324 Colonial White with black ink. The first 16 pages are printed on #100 Lustro paperstock, with the remaining 216 pages on #80 pound dull finish papers.

The type is in the Korinna family in red/black ink. The estimated total cost of producing this book is $15,000.00, not including supplies. Copies cost $40.00. The Boulder is a self-supporting institution. Candid photos in the Boulder '88 were taken by students on the yearbook staff and by professional photographers of Yearbook Associates, Millers Falls, Ma. Developing and printing was done by Yearbook Associates and J+R Photo.

EDITOR'S NOTE

It's been two years now since I've joined this group that is devoted to the production of a yearbook. I have many memories, some fond, some bitter. There are some very important people who have influenced me, and encouraged me when I was ready to give up. Without them, I wouldn't be here. At the top of my list is Shifty . . . He kept me going, and let me know that my efforts were important and necessary. Thanx Shift, I wouldn't have made it without you. And to those who cared, I mean really cared, this book's for you.

Love,
Amy Beauregard
